

Way Public Library

September 2022

waylibrary.info

Visit our website

September is Library Card Sign-up Month, when libraries nationwide join the American Library Association (ALA) to remind parents, caregivers, and students that signing up for a library card is the first step on the path to academic achievement and lifelong learning. When children sign up for new library cards Way Library includes a new bag for their books and other goodies. Also, September is free replacement library card month. If your library card has been lost, it can be replaced for free this month.

At Way Library, patrons of all ages can find a variety of educational resources and activities, including story times, computer technology classes, book discussions, craft classes, movies, and escape rooms, just to name a few. You'll find all of September's activities listed in this newsletter with links to our website if registration is necessary. We hope to see you at Way Library soon or visit us at our tent on the lawn during the Perrysburg Farmers Market on Thursday, September 15!

LTAI: Women's Suffrage Book Discussion of Ida B. the Queen

Monday, September 12 at 7 pm

Way Library welcomes Dr. Nicole Jackson, associate professor in History at BGSU, for a book discussion on Ida B. the Queen. Books are available at the library.

Dr. Jackson is a historian of the modern African Diaspora, Black social movements, and community activism, with a current focus on contemporary Black Britain. She is interested in everyday Black people's work to expand the boundaries of social and political citizenship. She is also interested in the intersection between historical reality and representation in popular culture. Dr. Jackson has been a regular contributor on Black Perspectives, the blog of the African American Intellectual History Society, since September 2017.

Admission is free and open to the public. For more information, visit waylibrary.info or call 419-874-3135 extension 119.

LTAI: Women's Suffrage is a humanities discussion project from the American Library Association (ALA) supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH).

Get Your Head in the Cloud! Tuesday, September 13 at 2 pm

Harness the power of the cloud. We'll cover using the Google suite (Drive, Docs, Sheets, etc.) to share, collaborate, and make your online life easier and more organized. The covered material will also be relevant for use with Apple iCloud and Microsoft 365 application suite.

Voting Rights - Topical Tuesdays Tuesday, September 13 at 7 pm

The library and the League of Women Voters of the Perrysburg Area welcome Jen Miller, executive director of the League of Women Voters of Ohio for September's Topical Tuesdays on voting rights.

Raised in small-town Ohio, Miller has over twenty years of experience working with diverse communities to promote social justice and civic action through positions with Columbus Recreation and Parks, Martin Luther Jr. King Arts Complex, the Ohio State University, and Global Gallery. Miller earned her Master's in Arts Policy, Education and Administration, a John Glenn School of Public Affairs program at Ohio State. She holds bachelor's degrees in Vocal Music and History and Ethnic Studies from Capital University. Miller is a graduate of the US Department of Energy NREL Leadership Academy. She is a board member for the Ohio Debate Commission, the Ohio History Connection, and Kids Voting Ohio. Inspiring others to participate in civic engagement is her deepest passion. She is a jazz singer and the proud mother of one daughter.

This free public presentation will be held in the Way Library lower-level meeting rooms. For more information, visit waylibrary.info or call 419-874-3135 extension 119.

Perrysburg: Then and Now

Wednesday, September 14 at 7 pm

Join Mark Weber and Gary Franks for a book talk and discover Perrysburg's small-town charm is very much alive, although it has visually changed from a small 1816 village to today's status as a city. Their book Perrysburg: Then and Now creates a venue to give the reader a perspective through pictures of not only how much Perrysburg has changed over the years, but also how much it has not.

The authors' objective is to give new residents of Perrysburg a look into past history, with the hopes of them reading further on the subject. And longtime residents may enjoy a cruise down "Memory Lane." In this book, every attempt has been made to duplicate the historic photo with a current shot from the same perspective.

A book signing will follow the program. Books are $25.00, check or cash. Admission is free and open to the public. For more information, please visit waylibrary.info or call 419-874-3135, extension 119.

Nova: A to Z – How Writing Changed the World

Thursday, September 15 at 2 pm

Just as handwritten records changed how societies work, the printing press transformed the spread of information, igniting the Industrial Revolution. How did technologies – from pen to paper to the printing press – make it all possible?

Reel Art Movie - Indian Horse (Canadian)

Friday, September 16, 7 pm

Indian Horse, adapted from the novel by acclaimed Canadian author Richard Wagamese, follows the life of Saul Indian Horse for 30 years. In the film, Saul is deprived of his Native Canadian heritage at a residential school, survives life amongst 1970s racism, and finds refuge on the ice when he discovers his talent and passion for hockey. As an adult, Saul must continue to find his own path as he battles stereotypes and alcoholism.

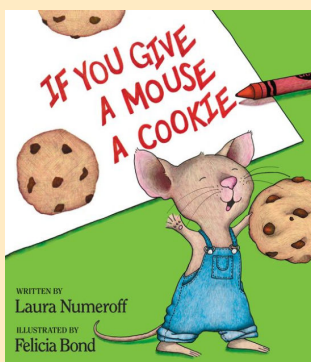

October Spice of the Month:

CURRY POWDER

The first mention of a curry powder occurred in British advertisements from the mid-1780s. The advertiser made the claim that the curry powder was brought back from the East Indies by Solander, the Swedish botanist on Captain Cook's Endeavor expedition. While this claim was likely marketing fiction created to evoke images of the far east, the curry powder on sale was likely a combination of Indian spices made by West and Wyatt.

Puzzle of the First Supermassive Black Holes Wednesday, September 28 at 7 pm

Way Library welcomes Dr. Eli Visbal, assistant professor in the Department of Physics and Astronomy at the University of Toledo, on Wednesday, September 28 at 7 pm for a presentation on the puzzle of the first supermassive black holes. Observations indicate that supermassive black holes with masses a billion times greater than the sun existed shortly after the Big Bang. How these black holes formed so early is an open question. Dr. Visbal will describe our current understanding of supermassive black holes, why their early formation presents a puzzle, and several possible solutions. He will also discuss how the recently launched James Webb Space Telescope will be used to help solve this mystery.

Dr. Eli Visbal received a B.S. in physics from Carnegie Mellon University and a PhD in physics from Harvard University. Before arriving at UT, he was a postdoctoral fellow at Columbia University and the Flatiron Institute in New York City. Dr. Visbal is a theoretical astrophysicist who uses simulations (typically performed on supercomputers) to understand the formation of the first stars and supermassive black holes in the early Universe. He is originally from Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Registration is not required. Admission is free and open to the public. For more information, visit waylibrary.info or call 419-874-3135, extension 119.

Pan for all Seasons!

Are you looking for a soft, fluffy, and light dessert? Try baking an angel food cake! As the name suggests, angel food cake is light, airy, and has a cloud-like texture that will remind you of heaven. This low-fat cake is made from egg whites, cake flour, and sugar. Its chewy light brown crumb exterior proceeds its pristine white interior. The name comes from the texture that's "so light that angels could eat it and still fly without being weighted down." This year, we have added two new angel food cake pans to our Baker's Way collection. Both a regular, round angel food cake pan as well as a heart-shaped pan can be found in the miscellaneous section of the collection.

Bake your next heavenly dessert with one of these pans!
