Book Buddy SPOTLIGHT

Bernice was born January 1, 1924, in Dayton, Ohio. As a child, Bernice loved to read and play with her friends. At the age of 15, Bernice met her husband Ed at the Bar Harbor lighthouse. Ed Soule joined the Air Force and became a gunner while Bernice worked as a private secretary and made bullets for 3 years during the war. When Ed came back from Germany, he and Bernice married on June 9, 1945, and they went on to have 6 beautiful children, Marty, Dianne, Laura, Mary Anne, and last but not least, Bruce. Bernice loves hearing about the lives of her 16 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Around Kingston, Bernice is known as “B.” She is an avid reader but is probably best known for her piano playing. B moved to Perrysburg after her daughter Laura researched all the facilities in the area, and they landed on Kingston. As a reader, B is always looking for ways to keep herself reading and her mind active.

Way Public Library has offered the Book Buddy Program for 20 years. It connects volunteers with patrons unable to physically get to the library and builds relationships that go beyond the covers of books. Mary Jo Bailin became B’s book buddy 5 years ago. Mary Jo keeps an extensive list of books that she regularly goes over with B to ensure her happiness with the selection. Mary Jo’s list includes 203 books, authors from Harlan Corben to Lisa Gardner and David Baldacci. Bernice mentioned that Mary Jo has sent her cards for every holiday, never missing one. Anyone can feel the kinship Mary Jo and Bernice have built over the love of books. As Bernice inches toward her 100th birthday, she has slowed down a little on her reading and playing piano, but she is still a spark of joy.
